New brand and responsive website

Mark Harman – Head of Operations, Glanvilles Damant discusses their experience and results after having worked with Conscious.

The Results

“The result is a fresh, new brand and website that reflects the ethos and new direction of the business whilst also appealing to the local market of the Isle of Wight. We have managed to achieve an impressive level of traffic to a brand new domain and were converting enquiries from day one.”

Would I recommend Conscious?

“Yes, 100% - the input we received on this project was invaluable and the result far exceeded our expectations yet again. Having used Conscious previously for a website project for Glanvilles LLP, it was really not an option to look anywhere else when we needed input into the Glanvilles Damant project.”

The Solution

“An excellent new brand, and a website to match.”

The Problem

“Glanvilles LLP was de-merging and one office was splitting off to form Glanvilles Damant Limited. We needed to give our client the comfort that they would continue to be looked after by the same individuals, but at the same time introduce a fresh, new brand that reflected where the new business was headed.”
